

BLAKEDOWN LANDSCAPES BROOKLANDS PARK WORTHING

THE CONTRACTOR

Blakedown Landscapes brought Turkington Martin's vision for Brooklands Park to life. We supplied CORE PRO EDGE to shape the new paths, helping turn the design's flowing lines into practical routes through the landscape.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

A £3 million regeneration has given this 22-hectare seaside park a new lease of life. A former golf course now connects themed glades, play spaces and a community garden, with a lakeside café and new routes inviting visitors to explore more of the landscape.

260lm

CORE PRO EDGE · 100mm ALUMINIUM

KEY REQUIREMENTS

Follow the park's sweeping path layout, retain the surfacing at its edges and form a neat boundary where paths meet grass and planting.

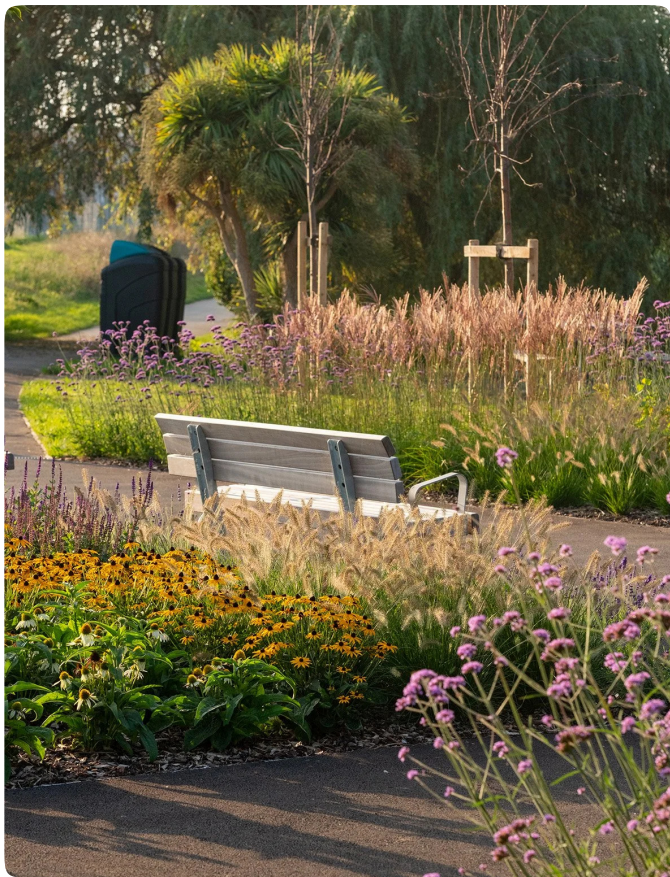

PRODUCT

We supplied 260lm of 100mm aluminium CORE PRO EDGE to Blakedown for Brooklands Park. It helped form the flowing curves and define the boundary between the path build-up and surrounding ground, giving each route a clear, consistent shape.

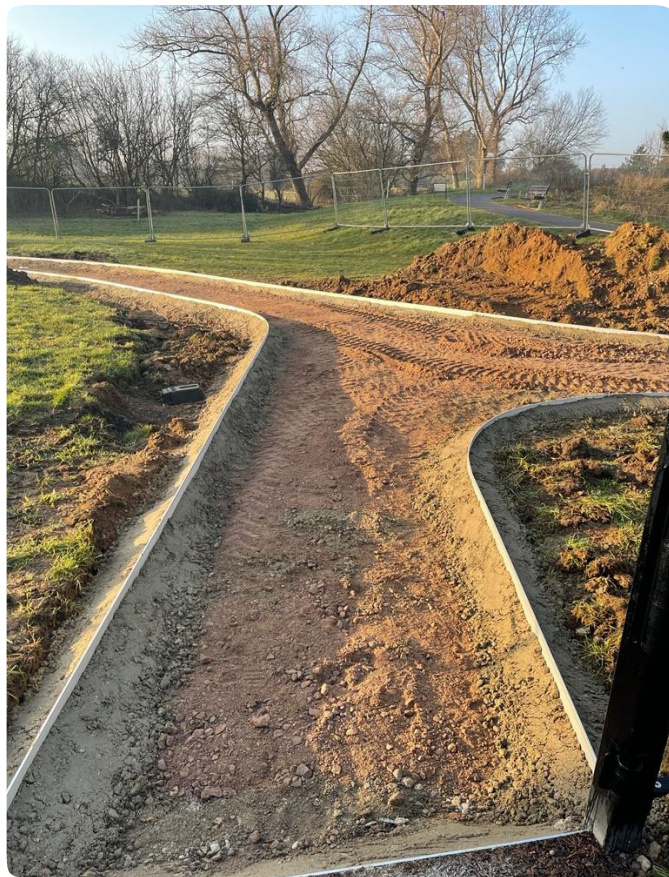

A path should feel part of the landscape. Well-defined curves guide people through a space without dominating the view.

Finished planting and paths

CORE edging during installation

SOLUTION

Blakedown's installation photographs show CORE PRO EDGE following the curves, bends and junctions of the new paths. Set out before the final surface, it establishes the route and holds the edge of the build-up in place.

That practical role supports the bigger design: a connected park where paths lead naturally between open lawns, planted glades and places to pause.

Finished: Paul Upward | Installation: Blakedown

FOLLOW THE CURVES

Sweeping lines help the paths sit naturally within the park's landscape.

RETAIN THE SURFACE

A defined edge contains the path build-up alongside the surrounding ground.

DEFINE THE ROUTE

Consistent boundaries bring a tidy finish to bends, junctions and long runs.

CORE PRO EDGE

260lm

100mm ALUMINIUM

01753 652 555

www.corelp.co.uk

sales@corelp.co.uk

The coastal setting and connected path network

Edging follows the lakeside curve

A consistent edge along the path

Blakedown's site photographs reveal the detail behind the finished park: defined edges that carry the design's curves through the landscape.

Aerials supplied by CORE | Installation photographs supplied by Blakedown